About Us

Established in 1976, The Hispanic Business Student Association is committed to bringing out the best in its members and preparing them for success in the corporate world. Long regarded as one of the top organizations at The University of Texas at Austin, HBSA continues to provide its 150+ members with unparalleled professional and leadership opportunities.

Through the numerous programs HBSA hosts throughout the year, including our signature events, Company Night and Scoring Careers, HBSA has helped increased the number of Hispanic professionals entering the work force. Our consistent hard work has led to many accolades. The most recent accolades include the University of Texas Leadership and Ethics Institute's Most Outstanding Organization award and the McCombs School of Business Most Outstanding Organization award. HBSA's four pillars include Academics, Community Service, Professionalism, and Family.

Our Mission

The Mission of the Hispanic Business Student Association is composed of four basic commitments:

To provide each individual member with the professional tools and skills necessary to survive and succeed in the corporate world. This commitment also includes providing members with the proper environments to utilize those skills to obtain employment opportunities.

To serve as an information center for scholastic and occupational opportunities. This informational function keeps our members abreast of the different options available to them at any given time.

To serve as a mechanism for communication to the McCombs School of Business of the needs and problems of its students. Remaining highly active and visible as an entity in the McCombs School of Business helps us to realize this commitment.

To provide its membership with an environment that enables each individual to simultaneously enhance themselves academically and culturally. To ensure this diversity, HBSA actively recruits members of all backgrounds and ethnicities. We welcome ALL students, regardless of ethnicity and/or origin, to become a member of the Hispanic Business Student Association.

Dear Corporate Recruiter,

The Hispanic Business Student Association would be honored to recognize your company as one of our 2013-2014 corporate sponsors. Our plan for the year includes various prestigious events that have repeatedly made HBSA one of the best organizations on campus. The one-to-one interaction offered to our sponsors through these events provides companies with the ability to seek the best candidates for mutual benefit of the students and recruiters.

Your investment further aids HBSA in continuing a 37-year legacy of promoting a heightened level of professionalism in its members and preparing them to succeed in the corporate world. Becoming a sponsor will give your corporation an opportunity to assist in the expansion of our programs and have a voice in the growth of our organization. Through HBSA, your corporation can contribute to the professional development of undergraduate students and can remain active within the university community.

We offer various sponsorship levels and event opportunities in order to best meet your company needs. In addition, if the following opportunities do not meet your needs exactly, we are more than happy to work with you to create an event that will better align your needs with our members' needs. We ask that you please give careful consideration to all the benefits associated with becoming a HBSA sponsor. We assure you that the benefits your company will receive will far outweigh the cost.

Best Regards,
