Course Objectives

This course has the following objectives:

- Introduce the concepts and theories of modern financial management
- Develop an appreciation for the usefulness of these theories for financial decision making
- Increase the student's financial decision-making skills
- Provide an overview of current financial management theories and practices

Required Materials

Required: Corporate Finance by Ross, Westerfield and Jaffe, 9th ed., McGraw-Hill Irwin

A reading package with the required readings has been put together for the course. You will not be tested on the recommended readings. Approximately 5% of the questions on the exams will come from the required readings.
McCombs Classroom Professionalism Policy

The highest professional standards are expected of all members of the McCombs School community. The collective class reputation and the value of the Texas MBA/MPA experience hinge on these standards. Faculty are expected to be professional and prepared to deliver value for each and every class session. Students are expected to be professional in all respects.

The Texas MBA classroom experience is enhanced when:

Students arrive on time. Timely arrival ensures that classes are able to start and finish at the scheduled time. Timely arrival shows respect for both fellow students and faculty and it enhances learning by reducing avoidable distractions.

Students display their name cards. This permits fellow students and faculty to learn names, enhancing opportunities for community building and evaluation of in-class contributions.

Students are fully prepared for each class. Much of the learning in the Texas MBA program takes place during classroom discussions. When students are not prepared they cannot contribute to the overall learning process. This affects not only the individual, but also their peers who count on them.

Students respect the views and opinions of their colleagues. Disagreement and debate are encouraged; however, intolerance for the views of others is unacceptable.

Laptops are to be used only for class work.

Phones and wireless devices are turned off.

Academic Dishonesty

The McCombs School has no tolerance for acts of academic dishonesty. Such acts damage the reputation of the school and the MBA degree and demean the honest efforts of the majority of students. The minimum penalty for an act of academic dishonesty will be a zero for that assignment or exam.

The responsibilities for both students and faculty with regard to the Honor System are described at http://mba.mccombs.utexas.edu/students/academics/honor/index.asp and within this syllabus. As the instructor for this course, I agree to observe all the faculty responsibilities described therein. During Orientation, you signed the Honor Code Pledge. In doing so, you agreed to observe all of the student responsibilities of the Honor Code. If the application of the Honor System to this class and its assignments is unclear in any way, it is your responsibility to ask me for clarification. As specific guidance for this course, you should consider the writing of all examinations to be an individual effort without any use of books, notes, or other unpermitted aids. Group preparation for examinations is acceptable and encouraged.
Honor Code Purpose

Academic honor, trust, and integrity are fundamental to The University of Texas at Austin McCombs School of Business community. They contribute directly to the quality of your education and reach far beyond the campus to your overall standing within the business community. The University of Texas at Austin McCombs School of Business Honor System promotes academic honor, trust, and integrity throughout the Graduate School of Business. The Honor System relies upon The University of Texas Student Standards of Conduct (Chapter 11 of the Institutional Rules on Student Service and Activities) for enforcement, but promotes ideals that are higher than merely enforceable standards. Every student is responsible for understanding and abiding by the provisions of the Honor System and the University of Texas Student Standards Of Conduct. The University expects all students to obey the law, show respect for other members of the university community, perform contractual obligations, maintain absolute integrity and the highest standard of individual honor in scholastic work, and observe the highest standards of conduct. Ignorance of the Honor System or The University of Texas Student Standards of Conduct is not an acceptable excuse for violations under any circumstances.

The effectiveness of the Honor System results solely from the wholehearted and uncompromising support of each member of the Graduate School of Business community. Each member must abide by the Honor System and must be intolerant of any violations. The system is only as effective as you make it.

The Honor Pledge

The University of Texas at Austin McCombs School of Business requires each enrolled student to adopt the Honor System. The Honor Pledge describes the conduct promoted by the Honor System, as follows:

"I affirm that I belong to the honorable community of The University of Texas at Austin Graduate School of Business. I will not lie, cheat or steal, nor will I tolerate those who do."

"I pledge my full support to the Honor System. I agree to be bound at all times by the Honor System and understand that any violation may result in my dismissal from the Graduate School of Business."

Students with Disabilities

Upon request, The University of Texas at Austin provides appropriate academic accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) is housed in the Office of the Dean of Students, located in the Student Services Building. Additional information is available online at http://deanofstudents.utexas.edu/ssd/index.php. Please contact SSD at (512) 471-6259, VP: (512) 232-2937 or via e-mail if you have any questions.
Course Structure and Grading

The course consists of lectures, optional homework assignments, two cases and two exams (a midterm and a comprehensive final). Relevant course materials are posted on Blackboard.

Lectures
The lectures are designed to provide an understanding of the major elements of finance. The emphasis is on the logic underlying concepts, on how each concept is used in finance, and on how the concepts are interrelated. The lectures are not note taking drills; rather, they are dynamic sessions in which information is presented by the instructor via visual aids and through direct interaction with the class.

Homework
Optional problem-solving practice assignments, with solutions, are available on Blackboard. You will be notified through email by the TA as these problem sets become available. These assignments have recommended problems from the RWJ text and some additional problems. It is important that you work through these problems on your own. The TA is available to help you with any questions you may have.

Cases and Exams (400 points)
- Midterm exam (100 points): October 15, beginning of class. The exam will cover relevant text chapters (RWJ and Rao), class lectures, and required readings. A sample midterm is posted on blackboard (this may not reflect the precise scope of your exam).
- Case 1. Massey Ferguson (50 points): Due October 29, beginning of class
- Case 2. Sampa Video (50 points): Due November 26, beginning of class
- Final Exam (200 points): TBD. The final exam covers the whole course. The exam will cover relevant text chapters (RWJ and Rao), class lectures, and required readings.

Course Policies and Administrative Procedures

- Grades: All grades are assigned after a careful examination of the work done. Any grade disputes should be submitted in writing to the TA after 24 hours and within two weeks of the receipt of the disputed exam/paper. No adjustments will be made after this two-week period.
- Extra Problems: Students can work out additional end-of-chapter problems in the text. Solutions to these problems are posted on Blackboard. Students having difficulty with these problems should seek help from the instructor or his assistant.
- Missed exams: Students missing exams with valid excuses should notify the instructor, in advance, where possible. They will have the final exam weighted proportionally more. Note that work pressures and travel obligations are not considered valid excuses.
- Students with disabilities: The University of Texas at Austin provides upon request appropriate academic accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. For more information, contact the Office of the Dean of Students at 471-6259, 471-4641 TTY.
Background readings

The following readings are not part of the course and you will not be tested on these, but they are useful because they provide a broad perspective on some current economic realities. The to locate these readings on your own, if interested.

- “A matter of life and debt,” The Wall Street Journal, October 21, 2008,
- “The $1.4 trillion question,” The Atlantic, January/February 2008, pages 36-48

Schedule – Class Sequence

In the schedule below, “RWJ” refers to the Ross, Westerfield and Jaffe text and “Rao Chapter” refers to chapters in the Rao text.

Note: A Block does not necessarily represent one day. It is a collection of like concepts. Most blocks will be taught over more than one class period.

Block I: Introduction and Overview

Discussion of Course, Class Procedures, and the "Big Picture."

RWJ Chapter 1. Introduction to Corporate Finance
Rao Chapter 1. The Firm and its Environment
Rao Chapter 2. Maximizing Stockholders’ Welfare

Readings:

- Note on the Financial Perspective: What Should Entrepreneurs Know? Harvard Business School, 9-293-045. (Read this now, but the larger context will be meaningful only at the end of the course).
- “How to avoid getting lost in the numbers” HBS 9-682-01
- “Small Company Finance: What the Books Don’t Say” HBR 87608

Recommended:

• If you are interested in reading more about the myriad dimensions of the concept of capital and the philosophy of capitalism, Hernando De Sotos’ book The Mystery of Capital: Why Capitalism Triumphs in the West and Fails Everywhere Else, is an interesting read. Basic Books, 2000.

• In previous years, students have wanted me to discuss in class the philosophy of Libertarianism. Without endorsing this website, I point out that one source of information is http://www.libertarianism.com/what-it-is.htm

Block 2: Operating and Financial Leverage

Rao Chapter 19: The Impact of Operating and Financial Decisions on Cash Flows

Application: Wyoming Gas and Electric

Block 3: Time Value, Bond and Stock Valuation

RWJ Chapter 4: Discounted Cash Flow Valuation

RWJ Chapter 8: Interest Rates and Bond Valuation

RWJ Chapter 9: Stock Valuation

RWJ Chapter 15: Long-Term Financing: An Introduction

Note: Depending on time constraints, we may not cover Chapter 15 in class. You will be responsible for them (i.e., read them on your own). A brief PP will be posted on Blackboard.

Note: Printer-friendly time value tables, time value formulas, and “Financial Functions in Excel,” posted on Blackboard.

Readings:

Recommended:

• “Introduction to Islamic Finance” (interest is proscribed), Harvard Business School Note 9-2-002

Block 4: Capital Budgeting

RWJ Chapter 5: Net Present Value and Other Investment Rules

RWJ Chapter 6: Making Capital Investment Decisions

Applied Research Technologies, posted on Blackboard.

Readings:

• Supplement on Capital Budgeting under Inflation, posted on Blackboard

Recommended:
• Thomas Friedman’s The Lexus and the Olive Tree, Anchor Books 2000, is an interesting book about how the wealth-creation process has changed with globalization.

Block 5: Risk and Expected Returns

RWJ Chapter 10: Risk and return: Lessons from Market History
RWJ Chapter 11: Return and Risk: The Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM)

Readings:

Recommended:

Block 6: Capital Structure

RWJ Chapter 17: Capital Structure: Limits to the Use of Debt

Reading:
• “Valuing Companies in Corporate Restructuring” HBS 9-201-073

Recommended:
Block 7: Cost of Capital and Valuation of the Levered Firm

RWJ Chapter 13: Risk, Cost of Capital, and Capital Budgeting
RWJ Chapter 18: Valuation and Capital Budgeting for the Levered Firm

Readings:

Recommended:
- “A Note on Capital Cash Flow Valuation” HBS 9-295-069
- “A Note on Valuing Equity Cash Flows” HBS 9-295-085
- “A Note on Private Equity Securities” HBS 9-200-027

Block 8: Financial Distress and Capital Markets

Rao Chapter 16: Resolving Financial Distress
RWJ Chapter 20: Issuing Securities to the Public
Update on Investment Banking (on Blackboard)
RWJ Chapter 14: Efficient Capital Markets and Behavioral Challenges (we may have to skip this chapter if time constraints are binding)

Readings:

Recommended:
- “The Other-Worldly Philosophers” (views on global crisis) and “Efficiency and Beyond” (discussion of efficient markets), The Economist, July 18, 2009. pp58-62
The article argues that extant cost of capital results and intuitions change dramatically when one admits risky debt and non-debt tax shields into the analytical framework (article is aimed at a technical audience, but the introduction and conclusion will give you the needed context).

Block 9: Strategic Risk Management

Rao Chapter 11: Managing Total Risk with Derivative Securities

Readings:
- A Note on Fair Value (on Blackboard)

The subsequent material is outside the intended scope of this class. If we have time, we will cover some of this.

RWJ Chapter 22: Options and Corporate Finance

Lecture: The Martingale Intuition and Real Options (Notes to be handed out in class)

Readings:
- "A Note on Private Equity Securities" HBS 9-200-027

Recommended:
- (Motivation for the “Options way of thinking”) Chapter 1-3 in Martha Amram and Nalin Kalutilaka, Real Options: Managing Strategic Investment in an Uncertain World, Harvard Business School Press, 1999
