

The University of Texas at Austin
McCombs School of Business

Prabhudev Konana

Associate Professor
Department of Management Science and Information Systems

- PHD, University of Arizona, Tucson, 1995
- MBA, University of Arizona, Tucson, 1991
- BS, University of Mysore, India, 1983

Dr. Prabhudev Konana is an associate professor of Management Information Systems, Distinguished Teaching Professor, and Assistant Director for the Center for Research in Electronic Commerce (CREC) at the McCombs School of Business, the University of Texas at Austin. He is also the Director of the undergraduate MIS program. He received his MBA and Ph.D. in management information systems from the University of Arizona in 1991 and 1995, respectively. Dr. Konana's research interests are in business value assessment, outsourcing and offshoring decision variables, next generation electronic brokerages, determinants of adoption of internet-based procurement, supply-chain management, study of beliefs and attitudes of online investors, determinants of satisfaction in online investing, and effects of IT in developing economy.

Dr. Konana is a member of the Academy of Distinguished Teachers, the highest teaching award at the University of Texas at Austin. He is a recipient of several research awards and grants. He received the prestigious National Science Foundation (NSF) CAREER Award ($295,438), NSF Information Technology Research grant ($499,996) (with Balasubramanian and Rajagopal), ICIS best paper runner up award, and CBA Foundation Research Excellence Award. He has also received grants from IBM, Intel, and Dell. He has received many teaching excellence awards including El Paso Energy Foundation Teaching Excellence award, Trammell/CBA Foundation Teaching Excellence award, and Elective Faculty Honor Roll, McCombs School of Business. He has been nominated by MBA students for outstanding MBA core faculty and faculty with outstanding ability to connect business with academics. He received the “Most Challenging Class” and “Most Looked Forward to Class” awards from Management Information Systems Association (MISA), Spring 2000.

Dr. Konana's research is cited in popular media including CNNFn, Fortune/eCompany Now magazine, Business2.0, InternetWeek, NetworkFusion, Line56, Ticker magazine, Bloomberg Financial Network, IDG e-business World, Economic Times (India), Austin-American Statesman, and Upside Today.

Dr. Konana teaches the Information Technology Management, an MBA core class, during Fall semesters, and E-Business systems development and database management in Spring semesters. He has conducted several executive seminars on creating e-business capabilities, Internet strategy, supply-chain management, B2B procurement and data warehouse for managers in chemical, healthcare, semiconductor, retail, and utility industries in the U.S., Singapore and India.