Corporate Partnerships: An Innovative Approach to Executive Education

Training and development is one of the most important investments that an organization can make, and these investments frequently result in an immediate and significant return, particularly when it comes to recruiting and retention. Texas Executive Education is pleased to announce a new Corporate Partnership Initiative that will provide companies with an innovative way to manage their training and development dollars, and an opportunity to take advantage of the tremendous resources of Texas Executive Education, The McCombs School of Business and The University of Texas at Austin. The corporate partnership initiative features pricing discounts, concierge level services, advisory opportunities and many other benefits of value to your organization.
