

DR. RAMESH K. S. RAO is the McDermott Centennial Professor of Banking and Finance. He received an MBA and D.B.A. from Indiana University and has a bachelor's degree in metallurgical engineering. He received a B.Tech. from the Indian Institute of Technology, Madras, India. Dr. Rao has published in the American Economic Review, the Journal of Financial Economics, Management Science and the Journal of Financial and Quantitative Analysis, among others. He has served as associate editor of the Journal of Financial Research and is the author of "Financial Management: Concepts and Applications" 3rd edition, and "Fundamentals of Financial Management." Dr. Rao has had extensive consulting experience. His clients include the Federal Home Loan Banks, Intel Corporation, Enron, Burlington Northern, Deutsche Bank and Fidelity Investments. He has served on the boards of directors of companies and has testified as an expert witness in the Federal Bankruptcy Courts. He was appointed the sole valuation expert in the spinoff-restructuring of First City Bancorporation. He recently served as project manager for the UT-Cisco Internet Economy Indicators Project. In addition to conducting seminars for IBM, Arthur Young, Chase Banks, Texas Instruments, Motorola, Phillips Petroleum and Halliburton, Dr. Rao has participated in several executive development programs in the U.S. and abroad. He has received the Outstanding Professor Award, the Joe Beasley Award, the Jack G. Taylor Teaching Excellence Award, Outstanding Professor Award in the Executive MBA Program and The Excellence in Education Award at The University of Texas. He served as associate dean for graduate programs and director of the Texas MBA Program from 1997 to 1999.