REQUIRED TEXT: Business Law, 12th Edition, by John R. Allison and Robert A.

Prentice.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

1. Introduce the student to the structure and functioning of the judicial system.

- 2. Introduce the student to legal reasoning and ethical decision-making.
- 3. Familiarize students with several areas of substantive law.
- 4. Examine the legal environment of business and relate it to ethical, social, and political issues in today's society.

CLASS ATTANDANCE: Class attendance is required, and a sign-in sheet will be passed around during each class beginning the second week of the semester. It is the student's responsibility to remember to sign-in for each class.

LAPTOPS & CELL PHONES: Laptops, iPads, etc. are NOT allowed during lectures. All cell phones, Blackberries, etc. are to be turned off during class. Violating this rule will negatively affect your class participation grade.

GRADING: 4 Exams – 20% each

Homework – 15%

Class participation – 5%

Note: If an exam is missed, you will need the instructor's approval to arrange a make-up exam. Make-up exams will only be allowed for a legitimate, documented reason. (You should assume that the make-up exam will be more difficult than the regular exam.)

¹ This course carries the Ethics and Leadership flag. Ethics and Leadership courses are designed to equip you with skills that are necessary for making ethical decisions in your adult and professional life. You should therefore expect a substantial portion of your grade to come from assignments involving ethical issues and the process of applying ethical reasoning to real-life situations.

EXAMS: All exams will be multiple choice. (Don't assume that this means the exams will be "easy." Nearly all of the questions will require legal reasoning.)

QUIZZES & ASSIGNMENTS:

The instructor reserves the right to give occasional pop quizzes if students are repeatedly unprepared for class. There will also be three homework assignments² over the course of the semester. There are NO make-up pop quizzes, and homework assignments turned in late will NOT be accepted.

FINAL GRADES: A 93-100%³

SCHOLASTIC DISHONESTY: The McCombs School of Business has no tolerance for acts of scholastic dishonesty. The responsibilities of both students and faculty with regard to scholastic dishonesty are described in detail in the Policy Statement on Scholastic Dishonesty for the McCombs School of Business:

By teaching this course, I have agreed to observe all of the faculty responsibilities described in that document.

By enrolling in this class, you have agreed to observe all of the student responsibilities described in that document. If the application of that Policy Statement to this class and its assignments is unclear in any way, it is your responsibility to ask me for clarification. Policy on Scholastic Dishonesty: Students who violate University rules on scholastic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary penalties, including the possibility of failure in the course and/or dismissal from the University. Since dishonesty harms the individual, all students, and the integrity of the University, policies on scholastic dishonesty will be strictly enforced. You should refer to the Student Judicial Services website at http://deanofstudents.utexas.edu/sjs/ or the General Information Catalog to access the official University policies and procedures on scholastic dishonesty as well as further elaboration on what constitutes scholastic dishonesty.

² All homework assignments, and their corresponding due dates, will be posted on Blackboard by the end of the second week of the semester.

³ Normal rules of rounding will apply.
