Importance of Appropriate Attire

First impressions can be lasting impressions, so it is essential to always dress appropriately for interviews, recruiting events or any situation where you may be formally or informally evaluated. In interviews or networking situations most individuals want to be judged based on their skills, accomplishments and their ability to respond intelligently to interview questions, not their attire! Although important, your attire and grooming should only take a supporting role in an interview. Dressing appropriately for an interview signals to the recruiter that you care about the interview and that you understand the employer and their industry. It is safest to adhere to Business Professional dress guidelines (detailed in this guide) for any interview unless you have been given other instructions from the employer.

Types of Business Attire

Business Professional: In situations where you will be formally evaluated, such as in interviews, dressing in business professional is the best option. For students, business professional dress is a conservative suit with the jacket and bottom pieces matching in both fabric and color. See the detailed descriptions later in this guide.

Business Casual: For less formal events, like information sessions, students may choose to wear business casual. However, do not be fooled - business casual is a safe, less-structured, middle-of-the-road interpretation of day-to-day business dress. At this level, jackets and blazers are optional, but preferred. Be sure that arms are covered with a cardigan, pullover sweater, or long sleeve shirt. See the detailed descriptions later in this guide.

Casual: You may be lucky enough to attend some type of extracurricular activity with an employer company, for example a baseball game. This event may seal the deal for you, so making the right impression is extremely important. Dress appropriately for the weather and activity, but as always, remember modesty. This look has only two pieces (top with a skirt or slacks), yet must still look good in the office. Asking the recruiter is always a good safeguard against dressing too formally or too casually.

Examples of common business attire situations:

Business Professional

Interviews
Office Visits
Career Fairs

Business Casual

Networking Receptions (usually)
Information Sessions
Etiquette Dinners

Note: No matter what the recruiter wears for your interview, the appropriate attire for you as a student is business professional. Remember, the recruiter already works for the company - YOU are the one being evaluated.

Shoes: Polished and in good condition

Details: Don't forget to remove tags, suit tacking stitches, loose threads, lint etc. The stitched tag label on the outside of men's suits should be removed.

Nails: Clean, trimmed, neatly manicured, Women - no extreme colors or length Cosmetics: Makeup should be conservative, aim for a natural, polished look

Perfume/Cologne: Use very little or not at all, clothes should be odor free (no smoke smell!)

Facial Hair: Clean shaven or trimmed very short and neat

Tattoos: Cover all tattoos if possible

Piercings: Remove all facial and body piercings, Women - one earring per ear, Men - No earrings

Back-packs: Do not take a back-pack to an on-site interview. For on-campus interviews you can leave it in the cubbies in the interview suites or check out a locker in the BBA Career Services Office (CBA 2.116).

Purse: A small, conservative handbag or business tote bag is acceptable. Bag should coordinate with shoe color.

Padfolio: Opt for a padfolio to hold interviewing documents (resume, references, notes, etc.) versus a briefcase. Padfolio should be a black, navy or dark brown leather or synthetic material.

Instructions on How to Tie a Tie

Selecting a tie: Choose high-quality, non-distracting, conservative dark blue or dark red necktie made of 100% pure silk.

How to Tie a Simple Half Windsor Knot:

- 1. Place the necktie around your neck with the wide part of the tie on your left side. Take the wide end of the tie and cross it over the narrow end at a 90 degree angle.
- 2. Pull the wide end of the tie around the part on your right side of the collar. Pull it behind the tie.
- 3. Then pull it slightly tight and back around the narrow end of the tie. As a tip: Hold the half finished knot in place with your left hand.
- 4. Pull the wide end behind the tie and around back to the front side of the narrow end. Then, just like before, pull the wide end of the necktie around the part located on your right side near your collar. Don't pull it tight, but make sure you have a loop on the front of the unfinished Windsor.
- 5. Pull the wide end through the loop.
- 6. Slightly tighten the knot and you are done tying a half Windsor tie knot.
