

Business Advisory / Management Consulting

An accounting advisor's or accounting consultant's work involves providing recommendations, options, and strategies and then often helping to implement these so that business owners achieve their financial and operational goals. Such consulting work can encompass strategic planning, entity operations, information technology, risk and financial (or other) regulations (i.e., due diligence), mergers & acquisitions, and human capital (e.g., human resources planning, employee professional development and performance management).

Beneficial Professional Designations

- CPA
- CFA
- CIA

Sampling of Employers Hiring our Students

- Accenture
- Bain
- Bellwether Asset Management
- Goldman Sachs
- Houlihan Lokey
- McKinsey
- Navigant
- Oracle
- PwC

Strongly Recommended Courses

- Advanced Accounting
- Corporate Sustainability
- Financial Statement Analysis
- M&A Advisory Services