Sara Jebaily hails from Tulsa, Oklahoma. Eager to learn about development, she joined The University of Texas McCombs Development and External Relations Office in March of 2015 as a Development Associate. Now, in her role as Stewardship Officer, she focuses on cultivating relationships with McCombs’ generous donors and thanking them for their ongoing support. Sara travels to key Texas cities and oversees the McCombs Parents Council.

Prior to coming to McCombs, Sara engaged in a full-time career as an opera singer. She also worked as an office manager for Flybridge Capital Partners, a venture capitalist firm based in Boston, MA, while continuing her singing career. Sara earned her Master’s degree in opera studies from New England Conservatory, and her Bachelor of Music from the University of Oklahoma with a minor in Spanish.

Sara maintains a part-time singing career, and enjoys traveling and spending time with her family and friends outside of work. Issues that are close to Sara’s heart include: animal and environmental conservation, recycling, and equal rights.
