ACC 310F: Foundations of Accounting (Non-Business Majors)
Introduction to financial & managerial accounting, with emphasis on the content, interpretation, and uses of accounting reports.

ACC 334M: Healthcare Accounting
Develop an understanding of revenue and expense drivers and their impact in healthcare organizations, identify and analyze healthcare revenues, expenses, management problems & critical dilemmas and more.

ECO 325K: Economics of Health (Econ Majors)
Explores medical care as commodity, demand for health & med services, economic behavior of providers & more.

HS 301/SOC 308S: Health & Society
Intro to study of health & society including health patterns, behavior, medical care, and health policy in social, demographic, cultural, economic, political, and ethical contexts.

MAN 334M: Healthcare System Management
Intro to the business ecosystem of the U.S. healthcare industry using a multidisciplinary approach to investigate the business structures, processes, and outcomes of health services in America.

MIS 373: Healthcare Analytics (Business Students Only)
Provides in-depth treatment of business data processing concerns such as database management, telecommunications, and development of commercial systems.

N377: Leadership & Management in Nursing (Nursing Majors Only)
Examination of selected concepts & theories of management & leadership in the context of the delivery of dynamic nursing care.

PBH 317: Intro to Public Health
Overview of public health including the system, concepts & tools for measuring health in populations, the relationship between public health & medical care system. Ethics & Leadership (EL) flag.

RM 369K: Managing Employee Risks & Benefits (Every Other Fall)
Risk management issues involving financial consequences of life & health contingencies, health care finance, pension planning, economics of industry structure, and public policy issues.

ACC 311/ACC 311H: Fundamentals of Financial Accounting (Business Majors/Honors)
Concepts & application in transaction analysis & financial statement prep; analysis of financial statements.

CMS 337: Communication to Build Sales Relationships (Fall)
Whether you’re interested in sales, leadership, marketing, customer service, or entrepreneurship, this course will help you develop long-term, trusting client relationships. Certificate students must select a healthcare company for project.

HED 373: Evaluation & Research Design (Spring, Seniors Only)
Types of experimental & non-experimental research, validity, reliability, experimental & quasi-experimental research designs, data collection, analysis & more.

LEB 334M: Healthcare Law & Policy
Intro to the legal & policy environment in which the U.S. healthcare system operates.

MAN 366P (Fall) or MAN 367P (Spring): Social Entrepreneurship
Focuses on the systemic planning, design, operation & improvement of the processes that deliver services & provide goods in order to control costs, improve the patient experience & ensure safety.

N309 Global Health (Study Abroad Option)
Overview of global health, emphasis on determinants of health, indicators, human rights, health & public health systems. Global Cultures (GC) flag.

OM 334M: Healthcare Operations Management
Focuses on the systemic planning, design, operation & improvement of the processes that deliver services & provide goods in order to control costs, improve the patient experience & ensure safety.

Porto Portugal Maymester (All Majors)
(BME 320, CHE 379, ME 379M)
Design in Healthcare enables students to consider sociotechnical factors in designing clinically translatable solutions. Course requires no math or physics and is open to all majors.