Steve West
MBA '80
Fuel Marketing
ExxonMobil

Steve West joined Exxon in 1980 after completing his BBA at the University of Texas, Arlington in 1978 and his MBA at The University of Texas at Austin in 1980. Mr. West retired from ExxonMobil in 2011 after a career that encompassed many marketing and supply assignments in various locations across the U.S.

Mr. West and his wife Susan currently reside in Chatham, MA, and Ahipara, New Zealand. He is an executive board member of the Cape Cod Baseball League, the president of the Chatham Anglers baseball team in the CCBL, and a member of the Chatham Town Finance Committee.

Mr. West and his wife have also established a Visiting Scholar Program that annually brings a University of Auckland graduate student in American History to The University of Texas for two months to enhance their American History graduate work. Both recognize the importance and benefits of securing a UT MBA degree and they strive to enhance UT's ability to provide this excellent graduate program through financial assistance and through Mr. West's participation on the MBA Advisory Board.
