

George Seay*Founder and Chairman*

Annandale Capital

George Seay is a 7th generation Texan from Dallas, married to Gretchen Seay and with 6 children between them. He attended Highland Park High School, then the University of Texas at Austin where he graduated summa cum laude, Phi Beta Kappa with a B.A. in History. He subsequently earned his J.D., cum laude, from SMU School of Law where he was President of the SMU Law Review Association and a member of the Order of Barristers. Mr. Seay earned his M.B.A., with a Dean's Award for Academic Excellence, from the McCombs School of Business at UT Austin. He is also a CFA Charterholder.

Mr. Seay started his career as a staff aide to Governor of Texas William P. Clements, Jr. while in college. He subsequently worked as a staff aide for Deputy Secretary (later Secretary) of State Lawrence Eagleburger in the George H.W. Bush Administration. Following government service, Mr. Seay worked for the law firm of Locke Purnell Rain Harrell in the mid-1990s. After a short stint practicing law, he founded the global investment firm Seay Stewardship & Investment Company in 1998, which seven years later became known as Annandale Capital. Annandale provides investment counsel and management to a wide variety of institutional and individual clients, with a focus on global stocks and bonds, as well as all forms of private equity.

Mr. Seay has served on many philanthropic and civic boards, including The Bob Bullock Texas State History Museum Foundation (as member and President), the Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin (Chairman), The Texas - Israel Alliance (Chairman), the McCombs School of Business Board of Advisors (Member & Chairman), the Clements Foundation, the Gill Foundation, the New Covenant Foundation, the 7th Generation Foundation (Chairman), the Trinity Forum Europe, CAIL, Sky Ranch Ute Trail (Founder), Anago Partners (Chairman), UTSWMC Foundation Board of Trustees and PAC (Chairman), Texas Exes, and many others.
